March 8 is International Women’s Day, a day to celebrate the accomplishments of women, girls and gender-diverse people. Under the theme #InspireInclusion, we recognize the work left to be done in reaching gender equity and pledge to support women in creating a better tomorrow.

Solutions towards gender equity, breaking biases and raising awareness about discrimination are everyone’s responsibility. We can all make a difference for the better and commit to #InspireInclusion.

On Friday March 8, the Qullit Nunavut Status of Women Council, the Government of Nunavut, Agvik YWCA, the Law Society of Nunavut and Pauktuutit Inuit Women of Canada are holding an International Women’s Day celebration at the Cadet Hall from 2-6 p.m.

Iqalumniut can join us throughout the day for mini spa activities, craft sale, live music and food. There will be a kids’ area and representatives from our partners will be on-hand to answer questions. Hope to see you there!
